SBWC likes to brag about our successful alumni – Fannie Flagg, Gayle Lynds, Monte Schulz, Catherine Ryan Hyde, and Christopher Moore, to name a few.

Join us June 9-14 and become a part of this ongoing literary legacy.

The full conference includes:

- 6 full days of workshops led by 30 talented teachers
- One-on-one manuscript consultations
- Afternoon panels
- Opportunity to register for agent appointments
- 5 evening keynotes by well-known authors
- Book signings and chances to meet author-speakers
- Opening night banquet on Sunday
- Cocktail reception
- Awards banquet on Friday evening

Since 1972, writers from around the world have gathered at the Santa Barbara Writers Conference to rub elbows with fellow writers, well-known authors, and publishing professionals.

You'll participate in a magical week of intensive work focused on craft, marketing, and networking.

See you there,

Grace Rachow, SBWC Director
